The Market Served

Public expectations regarding library services continue to change and evolve. In order to remain a relevant and vibrant resource, the library must anticipate demographic changes within the communities it serves to ensure that its programs, collections and services address the interests and needs of a diverse and changing Marion County.

According to the US Census American Fact Finder 2018 Quick Facts, Marion County is the 18th most populated county in Florida with an estimated population of 359,977 (July 2018).

The median age of Marion County residents is 48.5.

- 4.9 % are under 5 years of age.
- 18.6 % are under 18 years of age.
- 28.9 % are over 65 years of age.

The racial make-up of Marion County is as follows:

- 70.1 % of the population is white,
- 13.5 % is Black or African American and
- 13.6 % is Hispanic or Latino.

86.8 percent are high school graduates and 19.4 percent have a bachelor's degree or higher. The median income is $41,964 and 17.6 percent of the population lives below poverty level.

Our Competitive Advantage

Different generations and cultures often have varying educational and socio-economic backgrounds and experiences that impact their perception of the value of the public library. Public expectations for convenience, cost, choice and flexibility all impact the public library system's ability to compete with private sector and other services for market share.

Market share research indicates that one of the primary reasons customers remain loyal is because of engagement or quality customer service. According to Marion County Public Library System patron survey results, 90 percent of those surveyed rated the library customer service as superior or excellent. Specific comments such as:

- I visit the library several times a month and find the staff to unfailingly be polite, friendly and knowledgeable.
- Always available for questions, help and computers, of course.
- This is the most-friendly and helpful library I have been in. It is always a pleasure to come here. Thank you for all you do.
- I am grateful that the library has a knowledgeable and personable staff that helps me with my needs for my students and my own child.

Continued emphasis on providing outstanding customer service will remain a benchmark for the new operational plan of service and a methodology for evaluating that benchmark is a component of each of the goals.
