

Your Backyard: Help It Be a Great Place for You and Nature to Enjoy!

Tuesday, June 10, 2014 | 6—7:30 PM

Do you love looking at beautiful butterflies? Do you wish you had more song birds? Did you know that hummingbirds, and even bees, are both essential to help pollinate our food? They can also help to sustain the beauty of your yard. Help improve your backyard by making it more wildlife-friendly. Learn how to easily make your backyard more inviting to nature, while still being able to happily enjoy it yourself. This beginner's course will teach the four things needed to help make your backyard a better place for the plants, wildlife and you.

Location: Forest Public Library
905 South Highway 314A, Ocklawaha

Cost: FREE, register by June 3rd to receive take home materials

Registration: Please call (352) 438-2540

Instructor: Jamie Cohen, Extension Agent

UF UNIVERSITY of
FLORIDA
IFAS Extension